

FOREWORD

We have spent four happy and profitable years "on the hill." As the day for our departure draws close we are both happy and sad. But after all, we are quite willing to pass the torch on to the students that follow. It is our hope that you will support Athens High as we have tried to do, profit by our mistakes and keep our school ranking among the highest in the state.

We have tried in this book to portray some of the happenings during our last year, and if a reinspection of this effort should cause your thoughts to turn back to the happy times we had at dear Athens High and cause to love her more, then indeed our modest efforts will not have been in vain.

DEDICATION

Dedicated to

HAROLD C. MARDIS AND RUSSELL H. RUPP

Our true friends and unselfish mentors in directing the efforts of our class, we affectionately dedicate this volume.

Sons of the Black and Red

Sons of the Black and Red,
Fight for your Alma Mater;
Fight for the fame of the Athens name,
Undaunted forge ahead;
Hearts that are brave and true,
Loyal and eager, too.
Shoulder to shoulder fight and win,
Sons of the Black and Red.

Sons of the Black and Red,
Cheer while the team is scoring;
Over the foe let the victors go,
Triumphant march ahead;
Hark, how the bleachers cheer,
Play for the vict'ry near.
Shoulder to shoulder fight and win,
Sons of the Black and Red.

Senior Class History

It has been four short and happy years since we, the Seniors of Athens High School, ascended the "Old School Hill" one bright September morning, and as the end of our high school course draws near we are inclined to ask ourselves what we have accomplished in these four years, these four happiest years of our young lives.

We are going to try to tell you, dear friends and fellow students, just what these years have meant to us.

I don't believe much is expected of a Freshman in high school except that he is expected to show the teachers just what kind of member he intends to be—a lifter or a leaner. We had a few leaners, but under the presidency of "Jimmie" Bason, we struggled away, feeling very big and responsible, and tried to help the lifting squad. Our efforts were not entirely in vain, and even when we were Freshmen we had a few members taking part in high school activities. As a whole, I believe we were nothing extraordinary as a class.

Our second year we elected Carl Brooks for President, and began to feel that it was time for us to pick up our material and invoice. We found that we had no little dramatic talent in our class in such persons as Angella Woods and Homer Baird and a great deal of athletic talent, such as "Boobie" Battin. Our Sophomore year vested in us a new responsibility. We now felt we could tell the Freshmen a few things just as we had been told the year before. I think a Sophomore is usually inclined to over-estimate his responsibility, but it is a "white sin," so we may as well overlook it.

As Juniors a feeling of unity we hadn't felt before came over us. We organized under the excellent general who has led us so successfully through the last two years of our high school course, Abbot Wilcox. We chose Harold Mardis for our class teacher. Under this organization we went through a most happy and successful year. We kept up our attendance. And we were far from the end of the list when the grades came in, for in our class we had some excellent students.

I feel that this is a good time to mention the fact that in our Junior year we had a valuable addition to our class in the person of Ruth Miller, whose musical and scholastic talent we have learned to value highly.

Now, dear friends, we come to the happiest and most successful of our high school years. Seniors, as upper-classmen, must assume responsibility in trying to set the very best example to the under-classmen, to show them just what kind of people these Athens High School pupils should be. There are a great many activities in which Seniors must and may take part, and I believe we have done well in having with us in our Senior class such eloquent leaders as Angella Woods, Abbot Wilcox, Homer Baird and Edward Sharp. We are proud of our athletes, some of whom we believe will go to college and make their names in college athletics. We might mention Clyde Battin, Carl Brooks, Abbot Wilcox, Ross Gandee and Thornton Hughes, and wish them as much success in other things as they have had in their athletics here.

Our four years in high school have taught us many things we could not have learned from books, and I am sure we have all learned to love one another in this Senior class so that in later years when one or another of us is mentioned, we will have a soft spot in our hearts as we say, "Oh, he was one of my classmates back in '22."

High school has taught us to appreciate our teachers, to realize that they are interested in every one of us. At times we have thought our teachers too hard on us, a little unjust, but now we realize that it was simply our own selfishness and our own unwillingness to do our part. We love our teachers for their attitude toward us and we shall always feel the influence of such advisors. We feel that it is a good time to speak of our affection for Mr. Mardis as our class teacher. He has been untiring in his efforts in our behalf and we feel that we couldn't have chosen anyone who would have advised us more wisely or who would have been more interested in us.

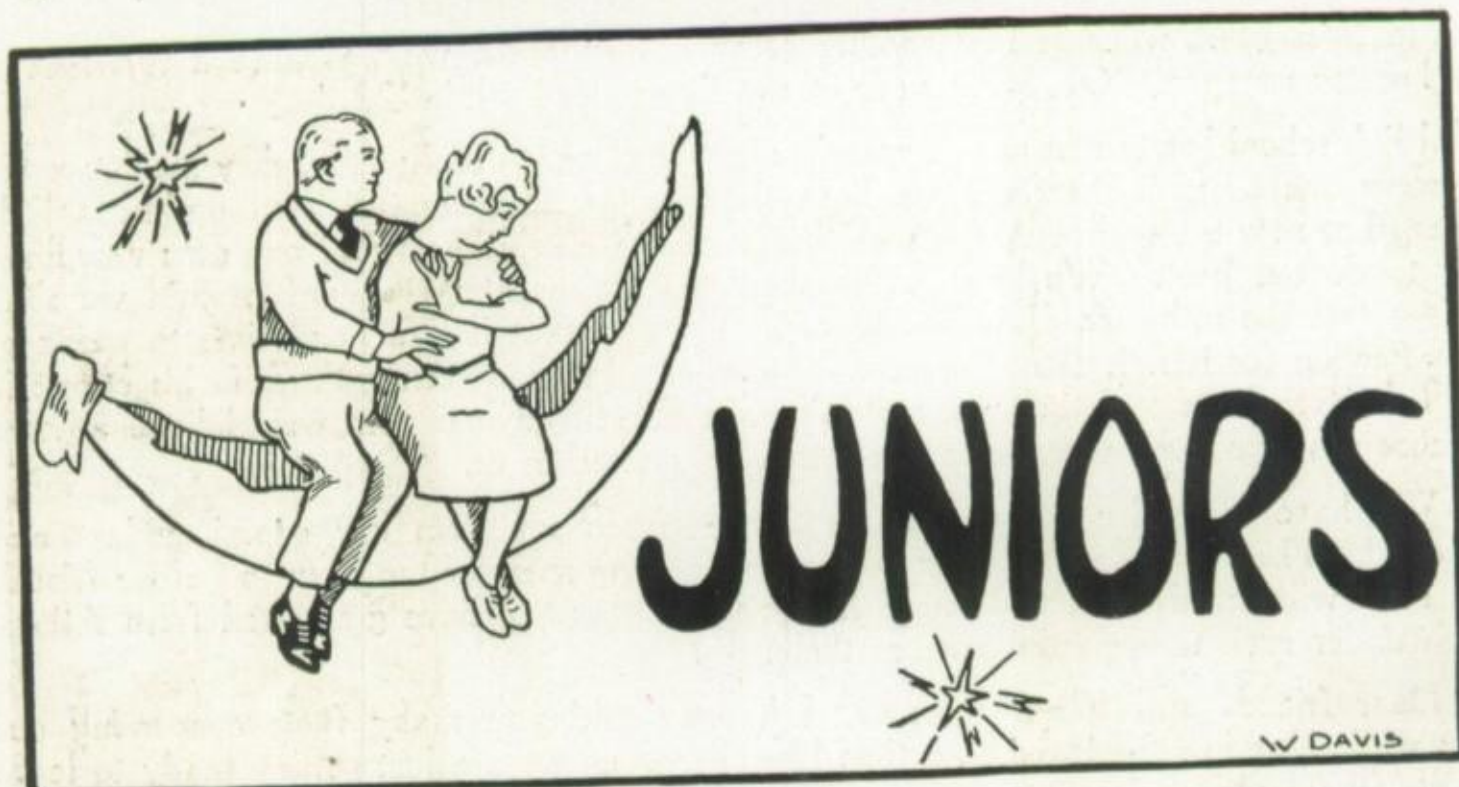

We have learned a great deal here in high school from our superintendent and principal. They have had time for all our troubles, were never too busy to be our friends and most willing advisors, and our Senior class is proud to have graduated from Athens High under such unsurpassed men as these.

Dear friends and fellow students, I haven't told you many facts concerning our class while here in school, but at a time like this, when we are just getting ready to leave a high school so dear to us, our hearts are full of such a love and such an appreciation for those who make the high school what it is that our tongues can speak nothing but gratitude to our teachers and friends here, and our hearts are a little heavy as we think that our work and our play in Athens High School is at an end.

The Junior Judgment

"Hear ye, hear ye, the court of Athens High School will now come to order! The victims for judgment this morning will be the members of the Honorable Junior Class whose worthiness will now be proved or disproved. The judge will now examine the witnesses.

There was a general stir after the following announcement. The judge; once considered a handsome man, had undergone the trial of his judicial career. The Sophomores, Seniors and Freshmen had all been judged and their deeds recorded. From these ordeals he had emerged a broken, white-haired man.

"Good morning, Judge." Here was something new.

"Dot Dailey and Margy Crow will now state to the best of their ability what contributions they have made to Junior accomplishments."

"Your Honor, we beg you to remember that we have faithfully influenced Dwight and Nippy to attend Friendship Circle regularly. As an after-though," said Margy, "I have my place on the honor roll while Dot is indispensable as captain of the basket-ball team and as a ticket seller."

"Very good. Pass on. Bill Kennedy and Bill Moler, please!"

"We are upholders of the gridiron, your Honor. Little Bill tries his skill at basket-ball and Big Bill gives the class some weight!"

"Dismissed, sirs. Liz Horn, Theodora Junod, Helen Brown, Dot Jones, T. Lawhead and Evelyn Watkins held for activities. Liz, please speak for the crew."

"In behalf of this silly six, your Honor, we are learning photography as a profession with domestic arts combined. I contribute jokes for the Megaphone and add matronly grace to the class play."

"Tut, tut, mustn't toot your own Horn, Liz! Octa Kincade and Monkey Wagner, forward, please!"

"I, your Honor, am very modest indeed and would just mention the fact that I am class philosopher, wit and mathematician combined. Octa, sir, has nothing to say."

The judge arose. "Thus with all most worthy people, Octa, I find like Abau Ben Adhem, leads all the rest in scholarship and love of fellowmen.

"This announcement has a pleasant sound," he continued, "let us hope that the people next before this bar of justice can give as worthy testimony. Stand forth, ye whom I shall now enumerate: Kenny Wilcox, Herb McConihay, Lena Hottel, Betty Jones, Barrett Young, Joe Farley, Marion Sprague, Dot McCormick, Mary Cox, Kate McKee, Helen Burson. Spokesman Wilcox, may we hear words of wisdom from you?"

Enthusiastically came the reply, "Oh, Judge, Herb, Lena, Betty, Barrett, Joe, Marion, Dot McC., Bill Moler and I are Thespian representatives; 'On with the play' was our ardent slogan for a long time. I'll tell you, Judge, you ought to hear Joe Farley, that is if he's not too modest. I'm sure it would be 'strictly legal' for him to discourse."

"Very good, Joe, let us hear you expatiate upon your deeds."

"Well, your Honor, Kat and I have been assisting Angella and Robert all year to put a louder cry through the "Megaphone" and have supplied that third happy couple in "Princess Bulbul." My greatest efforts have been put forth in debating and trying to woo 'Ruth in a rush'."

"Of course, there are many other witnesses who might prove the inexhaustable pep and vitality of the class. For instance, who has forgotten that ripping Hallowe'en party given last fall, or the splendid posters contributed by our young artist, Bill Davis. But best of all is the fact that this is only preliminary to the many things the Juniors will do next year."

"One moment, your Honor, you have omitted one extremely important factor. Do you mean to say you have not heard my deep bass leading three hundred and fifty voices?"

"Well, Hick, indeed we have not. My humblest apologies. And now that your deeds are done and recorded, one thing remains to be said: "Men are not judged by their looks, habits and appearance, but by the character of their lives and conversations and by their works. Enter thou into the joy of Seniorism."

KATHERINE MCKEE.

SOPHOMORE

With palpitating hearts and wide-eyed wonder, in the month of September, 1920, ninety inexperienced humans gazed forth into a land considered by them as full of marvels.

But, as the novelty gradually lessened, the ninety persons who were Freshmen entering the Athens High School, discovered that to remain undisgraced, studying was necessary. Also, the truth of the old saying, "Nihil sine labore," was soon proved.

In their initial year, the bashful youths and blushing maidens became, as per usual, the recipients of the jests and gibes of the upper-classmen. An assembly held by the Seniors to show the Freshies their insignificant function in the high school will always be remembered as one of the most embarrassing but still one of the happiest times of their lives.

On Thanksgiving evening, a very successful party, under the supervision of the class president, Kenneth Wilcox, revealed the wisdom of selecting him for such a worthy office.

The trials of the first year of high school work were greatly mitigated by the aid of a most beloved faculty and were fortunately interspersed with many enjoyments, such as high school plays, rallies, games, etc.

When the second year arrived, all the Sophomores realized quite clearly that, as the Sphinx, they also must solve their own riddles. They were inspired by Mrs. Price, their class teacher, and Josephine Marshall, the class president, to uphold the highest standards possible.

In the social life of this year, a Hallowe'en affair, a mixture of games, dances and surprises, delighted those attending.

The members of the class of '24, who are presently to leap across the chasm dividing them from the esteemed upper-classmen, have determined in the year to come to live up to the symbols of A. H. S., which are Ambition, Happiness and Loyal Class Spirit.

A. H. M., '24.

This is a large, dense collage of black and white photographs, likely from a mid-20th-century yearbook. The photos are of various sizes and are arranged in an overlapping, non-linear fashion. The subjects are primarily young people, presumably students, captured in a wide variety of settings and poses. Some photos are formal portraits, while others are candid shots of students in groups or alone. The clothing and hairstyles are characteristic of the 1940s. Notable images include a couple in a close embrace, a group of four girls in similar dresses, a boy with his arms raised in a field, a large profile of a girl's head, and a group of students sitting on a bench. The collage captures a sense of everyday life and special moments from a specific time and place.

Dramatic Club

Practically every good high school student realizes and appreciates the unlimited wealth of knowledge that abounds in good literature. We can not obtain our complete education from books, but the most important of all the things which we learn by incessant reading thereof, is the study of the English language.

There are various means by which the study of English may be enjoyed to its fullest extent, one of these having been practiced through the second semester by a group of fifty Juniors and Seniors who met regularly each Tuesday evening at "Ye Olde Schoolhouse On Ye Hill." Through the able leadership of Mr. Stailey and Miss Anne Pickering a great many of the most modern of American plays were read and discussed, quite often a member of the club reading one of the plays. Attendance, although hampered by numerous other current activities, remained exceedingly constant, due to the unfailing interest taken by those who felt the real benefit of this unique high school organization.

One of the first things brought to light during the organizing of the club was the fact that a fee of one dollar would be expected from each member connected with it. This money was used in the purchase of plays.

Two worth-while developments that have come about through the resources of the Dramatic Club have been the selection of both the Junior and Senior plays for the present year.

As Seniors, we urgently request that with the good start and high ambitions to look forward to, the Dramatic Club of next year will have even greater support and will retain its constitution attributes of yester-year.

The Megaphone

The Megaphone, the Athens High School paper, has certainly kept in view the aptness of its title since the first publication several years ago, and as a result its influence has been ever widening character. The value of a high school paper can hardly be estimated in the school work, as in every line of scholastic endeavor its effect is noticeable. Years ago, perhaps when the first issue of the Megaphone was launched, the permanency of its value was probably questioned by many, but since its years of regular and successful publication there is no longer a question as to its place in high school activities.

We cannot claim that the Megaphone is the brightest gem in high school newspaperdom, but we do claim that it may be placed among the best high school papers. The reason for this is not difficult to determine. During the years of publication the keenest interest has been shown in its management and publication during the past school years. Every high school student has displayed commendable interest in its preparation and to this high school spirit is largely attributable the paper's success. The student made the issuing of the Megaphone really a part of their school work and at no time did they shirk a single responsibility placed upon them by the staff. This whole-hearted co-operation on the part of the students made its publication a pleasureable success and contributed in no small measure to the advancement of the school work.

The universal zeal put forth by the staff is worthy of the highest commendation and their work will stand as a fitting memorial to their untiring efforts. To the faculty advisors of the staff is due a large share of praise for the success of the Megaphone in the past year and their patience, assistance and kindly direction in the work of publication will always be gratefully remembered by all who were brought into contact with their beneficial influence.

The work of publication carried out, we believe, by the staff the past year should certainly prove an incentive for future classes, and we bespeak for their improvement over our efforts that will be in keeping with the constant improvement of the Athens High School.

Debate

Athens High School has long been known as a school interested in public speaking and debate. From the days of Superintendent Skinner to the present the debating and declamation contests have been features of our scholastic and interscholastic activities. The years 1912, 1913, 1914, 1916, and 1917, were early years of exceptional interest and success. During this period victories were recorded over most of the prominent Southern Ohio high schools.

With interest and enthusiasm in no degree abated, but with a slight shrinkage of the figures in our "win" column, the last few years have seen Athens High working hard to maintain its place in the sun and the traditions of the past. While failing in some cases to meet with the successes that have been achieved by our athletic teams we feel that not in point of debates won or lost is the success and benefit of our efforts to be measured. In few of the distinctive activities of the school can the development of the inherent powers of the mind and the qualities of self-assurance and confidence be more readily accomplished than in the fields of debating. Debating affords most excellent opportunities to develop individual powers of leadership and it is not at all surprising to observe that those who are actively interested in the high school debates are very often found to be the recognized leaders in the student body.

In order to develop material and to discover new men possessed of forensic ability a class in debating and argumentation was organized by Mr. Stailey. All phases of formal debate were studied and many informal tilts indulged in. From the membership of this class the 1922 teams were chosen. With only two veterans of the preceding year, the matter of training new men might have presented a problem, but the coaches were but little handicapped due to the high calibre of the men available. The following are the A. H. S. platform representatives for 1922. Affirmative team: Earnest Algeo, Thornton Hughes, Luster Cooley, and Edward Sharp, alternate. Negative team: Ross Gandee, Dwight Rutherford, Joseph Farley, and Andrew Nelson, alternate.

This year the debaters engaged in but two debates, and in each were defeated by a score of two to one. In the triangular contest with Marietta and Cambridge the Athens Affirmative team met the Marietta Negative in Athens while Athens High's Negative journeyed to the Eastern Ohio city of Cambridge. The question debated was, Resolved: That Congress Impose a 3% Manufacturer's Sales Tax. Since the subject was such a live one and pertinent to national issues of the day, unusual interest was elicited and the work of the teams intensified.

While defeat must be acknowledged in both our efforts this year it was not the humiliating crushing defeat that results in discouragement. In both cases the debates were hotly contested and a close decision inevitable. The system of scoring was elaborate and comprehensive and disclosed that the victories had been accomplished by only a very small percentage margin. In defeat, however, there was something of victory for the spirit engendered by this year's reverses cannot but be productive of the finest results next year. Every man who will return next year is pledged to help wipe out the stigma of defeat.

The coaching of the teams was handled by Mr. Stailey and Mr. Williams. Mr. Stailey had the Affirmative while Mr. Williams worked with the Negative team.

Individual mention of the men who composed the teams will not be attempted although it is felt that each is deserving of individual commendation. The coaches expressed themselves as being very well pleased with the spirit and enthusiasm displayed and look forward expectantly to next year when it is hoped that past defeats will be avenged.

In accordance with the prevailing custom the members of the teams were awarded the official and much coveted "A"—the highest honor at the bestowal of their Alma Mater.

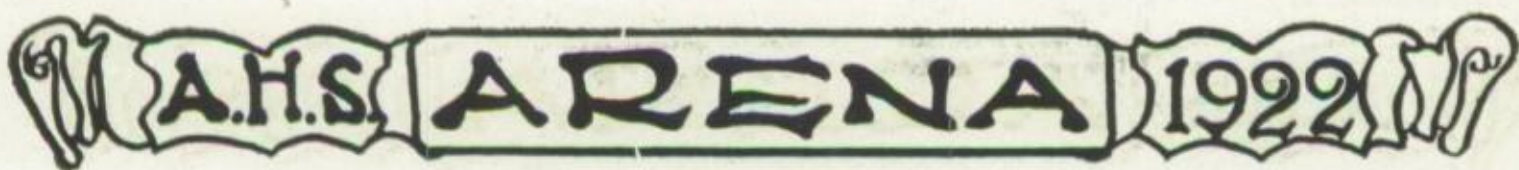

"Now all together. Let's give a big Debaters' Rah. Make it snappy. One—Two—Three."

The Friendship Circle

The Friendship Circle is the high school organization which corresponds to the college Y. W. C. A.

At the beginning of the school year Miss Pickering was chosen as the faculty advisor and everyone knew the organization would be a success and such it has proved.

During the opening campaign in November one hundred and twenty-five girls joined the circle. Every meeting has been full of interest and enthusiasm. The girls have been particularly fortunate in hearing splendid talks and many inspiring programs have been enjoyed. During the second semester Miss Danford has helped to make the circle a success.

The social meeting in December was in the form of a Christmas party, at which sixty poor children of the city were entertained. At the May meeting a picnic spread delighted the members and at the election the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Honor Society

As this book goes to press we are glad to announce that a local constitution has been drawn up and application made for membership in the National Honor Society. Copies of our local constitution have been mailed to each of the ten members of National Council. Immediately after the constitution is certified, charter will be forwarded to us.

We have long felt the need of an organization of some nature that would make it possible to more publicly recognize the good, reliable students. To belong to a National Society, with a national emblem, will be no small honor.

Scholarship will be the most important requisite for membership. According to the constitution: "candidate eligible to election shall have had an honor record up to time of election, and shall stand in the first four of their respective classes. They shall have spent at least one year in Athens High School and shall have Junior or Senior rank. Not more than 15 per cent of any 12A class or 8 per cent of any 11A class shall be elected to membership."

The object of this chapter shall be to encourage scholarship, leadership and character development.

Brown Prizes

In the person of Mr. J. D. Brown, Athens High School has one of its most highly appreciated and most beloved friends. We say friend rather than benefactor because we feel that his interest in us is, in a measure, personal.

Each year Mr. Brown gives us one hundred and sixty-five dollars. Our faculty decides upon the persons most deserving these prizes by reason of their effort, talent, reliability, etc.

We are indeed thankful to Mr. Brown for making it possible that such persons shall be recognized.

The following are the winners of the Brown prizes for the School Year of 1920-'21:

CAPTAIN SHARP

To "Sharpie" goes the honor of leading the Black and Red through such a successful season. Playing at center, he was a demon on the defense and always could be relied upon to pass a ball back in good style. This is Ed's last year and he will be missed in the Red and Black line-up next year.

GEORGE SWEENEY

"Jackie" was the General of Torrance's football squad. He mixed his formations well and his punts averaged from fifty to sixty yards. His specialties were long forward passes and he was a demon on the quarterback sneak. "Jackie" will be with us next year and great things are expected of him.

CLYDE BATTIN

"Boobie," the sensational halfback of the A. H. S., proved his worth in every game by his flashy end runs and hard line plunges. He was a stone wall of the defense and a fine passer. In every game he would slip out for a fifty or sixty yard run. This is "Boobie's" last year and A. H. S. will have a hard time filling his place.

WILLIAM BAKER

"Bill" Baker, substitute halfback, worked hard the whole season that he might be able to take any halfback's place if called upon to do so. He was an excellent man on the defense as well as the offense and fulfilled his place very well. Baker has two more years at Athens High School and we wish him good luck in the following years.

CARL BROOKS

"Mustang," playing at end and guard, showed his worth by receiving passes and by his ability to play two positions. He was in every game and gave all he had and no one could ask more. Brooks will graduate in June.

McKINLEY

"Pete" McKinley, the other end for Athens High School, although not as experienced as Barnes, showed great talent in receiving forward passes and stopping the opponent's end runs. He has three more years in Athens High School.

THORNTON HUGHES

"Red" was another backfield man, who because of his speed and stick-to-it-iveness was a great asset to the squad on the defense and offense. "Red" filled the position of halfback and in case of emergency was a good quarterback. "Red" will be with us next year and much is expected of him.

A.H.S. ARENA 1922

ANDREW NELSON

"Ockey" Nelson was a substitute that could be relied upon to take either an end or backfield position. He was an excellent forward passer and he was also good at receiving forward passes. Although Nelson was light, he could stop an end run of an opponent's before they had made a gain. Nelson graduates this year.

IVAN MAPLE

"Bud" Maple was a substitute line man of no little note. He could be depended upon to take practically any position on the line and make a hole for Athens' backfield to go through. He was also good on the defense and stood his ground in stopping the foe from tearing through for a gain. Much will be expected from Maple in the following three years and we wish him the best of luck.

ABBOTT WILLCOX

"Abby," a Senior, was a valuable live wire. Playing at tackle, he showed his worth both on the defense and offense. Because of his splendid physique, he was a hard man to face. "Abby" graduates in June and he will be missed much.

BARNES

Athens High School was very fortunate in having such a good end as "Long" Bert Barnes. A forward pass to Bert almost always netted the required number of yards. He was also very good on the defense. Circling the opponent's end, Barnes would down the opponent back of the line of scrimmage.

FETH

"Dutch" Feth, as fullback, was like a stone wall on the defense. He could hardly be moved by his opponents. He could carry the ball through his opponent's defense with very little interference. He was probably the fastest man on the team. When he made a flying tackle at an opponent, you could rest assured that he would get the man.

ROSS GANDEE

"Ross," playing this year at tackle, showed good form both on offensive and defensive. Ross played in every game and played good, hard football. Ross will graduate this June and, like all of the team, will be missed next year.

SERENO SHAFER

"Sereny," while only a Soph., was a demon on the line. Although small, he always made himself known. Playing at guard, he was in every play and layed his man out. "Sereny" also played in a few games in the backfield and because of his fighting, carried the ball for gains every time. He will be with us next year and much is expected of him.

BASKETBALL

1921-22 Basket-ball Season

Last year when Wise, K. Sharp and Bolin graduated from Athens High and it was found that Mr. Mackie would not be with us this year, the people thought that the athletic material was going with them. At the beginning of this year it did look as though we would not have a very good basket-ball team, but the team that Coach Torrance put on the floor chased all of these doubts from the minds of those who watched them play.

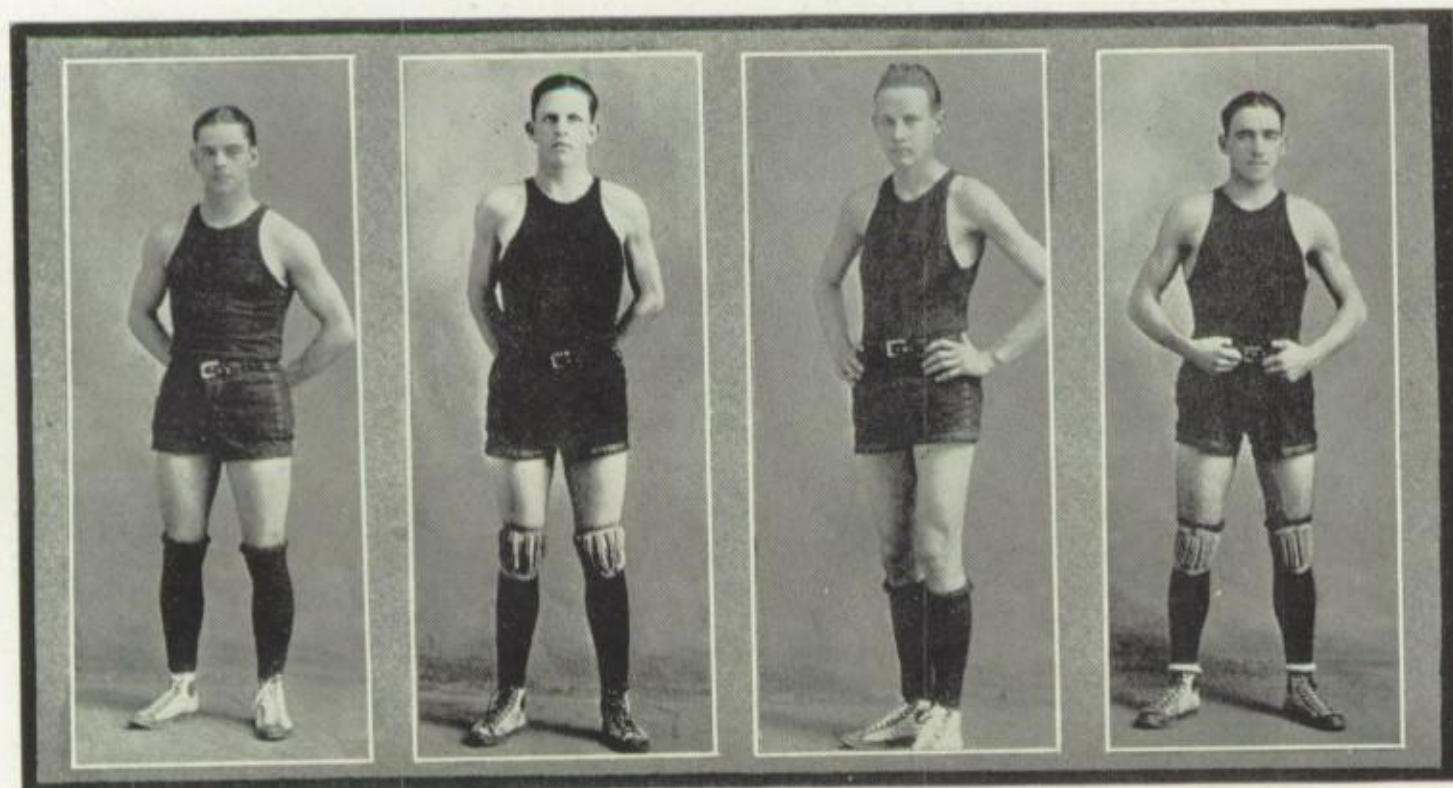

Coach Torrance is the second coach that we have had from Ohio Wesleyan. He put a different style of basket-ball before us and it certainly did prove a success. No coach could have been more loyal and fair in his work. His knowledge of the game is beyond question and to him goes a lot of praise.

On the other hand, there appeared on the court a bunch of candidates willing to undergo the hard grind of the entire season, although they were not considered first team men. The entire squad deserves much praise for their faithful work in putting out one of the best teams that Athens High has ever had.

We won the Ohio University Tournament for the second time and this victory will never be forgotten, because we won it from worthy foes. Although we lost one or two scheduled games, Athens High is proud of the record made by the basket-ball team of nineteen hundred and twenty-two.

CLYDE BATTIN

"Booby" is the one who gets the credit of leading his team through such a successful season. He played in every game and his floor work was always superb. His shooting was accurate and he was acclaimed the star of the Ohio University Tournament. This is "Booby's" last year and this sensational player will be missed next year.

WALTER MUIR

"Muir," a Junior, made a record for himself as a point maker. Playing at center, he would get the bat-off every time and his passing helped make up the wonderful machine that A. H. S. produced. Muir has another year at the school on the hill and much is expected of him.

PAUL KAHLER

Kahler played his first year for the Red and Black. Playing at center, he was one of our best subs and one of the best shots on the team. Kahler is a Freshman this year and much is expected of him in the following years.

EDWARD SHARP

"Sharp," playing at guard, showed great ability both on the offense and defense. His passing was superb and he caged long ones in every game. This is Ed's last year and he has made a record for himself.

CARL BROOKS

"Mustang" showed his ability this year on the basket-ball court by being high man in almost every game. He played in every game and gave all he had for A. H. S. This is his last year and he will be missed next year.

SERENO SHAFER

Although Sereno is little, he has proven himself to be one of the best guards that has ever been produced by A. H. S. He is an excellent dribbler and he proved to be of great assistance in breaking the opponent's defense. Sereno was elected captain of next year's team and we know that he will lead the Red and Black through a successful season.

TED COWAN

Ted, although his ability was not fully recognized until late in the season, proved to be of great help to Athens High in the latter part of the season. Ted worked hard during the whole season to gain the honor of being one of the first seven men. We wish to extend our appreciation to him and we wish him the best of luck in the following years.

THORNTON HUGHES

"Red" was one of our best subs this year. Playing at any position, he made himself known, and was in the game every minute. "Red" has another year at A. H. S. and much is expected of him in the following year.

TOURNAMENT SQUAD

Ohio University Tourney

Athens High has been the winner of the Ohio University Basket-Ball Tournament for the second time in three seasons. In 1920 we won by defeating Portsmouth. Last year we came a close second, but due to the fact that the team had had several games on the same day the men were much fatigued. This year Athens showed a speed and excellency of playing which lasted until the final whistle was blown.

The first game which Athens played was with Somerset on the afternoon of the first day of the tournament. This was an easy victory for the Athens five. The following game was with McConnellsville, which was also a victory for the Red and Black. The next game, the one which determined who should be in the finals, was with Gallipolis. Early in this game our star forward, Battin, was ruled out and the defenders of the Red and Black were severely crippled. All through the game they played desperately to run up the score and it was only by the close guarding of Shafer and Sharp that the opponents were prevented from topping the A. H. S. score. When the final whistle sounded the score stood 9 to 5, favor Athens. Aquinas also went into the finals by defeating Shawnee in a rather slow game.

Critics said that on the form shown it would be a desperate game and neither would triumph without a terrific fight.

At eight o'clock the gymnasium was crowded to capacity and hundreds were turned away from the doors. The Columbus five showed plenty of fight but the speed of the Athens team completely dazzled them, and time after time they were unable to stop the Athens offensive and the ball was gracefully looped in for two points.

Battin and Brooks, forwards, and Muir, center, broke with such terrific speed that the Aquinas guards found it impossible to stop them. Shafer and Sharp on guards, guarded like demons and the Green were unable to secure a field goal until more than thirty minutes of the game had passed. The first half ended 21 to 3 in Athens' favor. The second half was a repetition of the first and the game ended 40 to 14.

After the game Dr. Chubb presented to the team on behalf of the University, a silver loving cup; and to each individual a gold miniature basket-ball. Battin was judged the individual star of the Tournament and was awarded the prize donated by the business men of Athens.

This Tournament will long be remembered by the participants and by those who followed the Red and Black through the games.

Girls' Basket-ball Team

Last year initiated basket-ball on a large scale for the Athens High Girls. This year it was further extended, the girls playing two more games than last year.

The schedule for this season included Pomeroy, Nelsonville, New Straitesville, Lancaster, John Hancock, New Marshfield, New Lexington and The Plains. Out of the eight games played we only lost to Lancaster and New Straitesville.

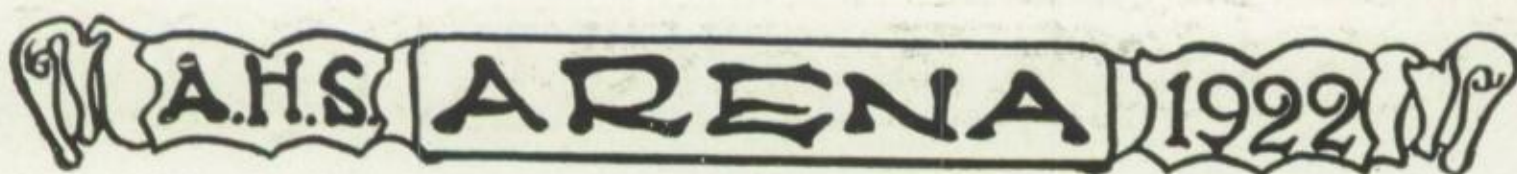

The line-up was as follows:

Right Forward	Ruther Porter
Left Forward	Pauline Danford
Center	Ruth Miller, Mildred Young
Right Guard	Helen Burson, Dorothy McCormick
Left Guard	Dorothy Dailey, Margaret Krider

This is the last year for Captain Porter, Miller, Danford, Young and Krider. For next year Dorothy Dailey has been elected Captain and Helen Burson, Manager.

The past season is considered as having been the most successful of any in which the girls have had the pleasure of taking part. We know that those who remain will have as good a season next year as this year's team has had.

Baseball and Track Outlook

Although Coach Torrance did not think it possible for a baseball team this year, a team is now in the making, and a fine team it is going to be. Everything is going fine and we look forward to a team that can not be beaten.

There are about thirty candidates out for baseball and strong competition for each position is certain. The mound work will be performed by Sweeney, Sharp and Algeo. Behind the bat will be Jackie Rhodes and Kennedy. Those out for first base are Brooks, McKinley and Gibbs. Hughes is a candidate for the second bag. McConahey, a last year's man, seems the man for shortstop. Cowen and Davis are the candidates for the third sack. The candidates for field are Sharp, Basom, Maxwell, Watkins and Tompson.

A schedule has been arranged with Jackson, Hancock, Chauncey and Nelsonville. The season shows great signs of success.

TRACK

A. H. S. looks up to this new sport and much is expected of our track team this year. A. H. S. has many candidates out, many of which are last year's men. The choice athletes of A. H. S. will represent the school on the hill in a track meet to be held at Lancaster, May 20, between A. H. S., Lancaster, Logan and Nelsonville. There are to be fourteen events and three candidates from each school will take part in each event. If the team shows up well at this meet they may journey to the Big Six meet at Columbus, May 25-26. Some of the candidates are: Hughes, Sharp, Brown, Muir, Gandee, Kasler, Howard, Ewing, Shaffer, Davis, E. Cameron, Cowan, Hickman, Haning, Ruthaford, Buxton, Roush and Keenan.

Angella Woods: "Have you ever played the game of love?"

Ed. Sharp: "Just once, but I needed a shave and was disqualified for unnecessary roughness."

Professor: "How dare you swear before me?"

Jew Roberts: "How did I know you wanted to swear first?"

Dick Clark: "Some jazz, I hear. I didn't know you had any jazz bands out here."

Farmer: "That ain't no jazz band. That's the pigs squealing for their supper."

A couple of highwaymen pounced on a pedestrian. He gave them a hard battle, beating them both unmercifully until he was finally subdued. When at last they had knocked him unconscious they went through his pockets and unearthed a solitary dime.

"Don't cuss, Slim," consoled the Denver Dip. "T'ink yerself lucky. If dat guy had a quarter he'd of kilt the two of us."

Mrs. Price (in study hall): "Order! Order!"

Abbot Wilcox (in back of room): "Ham sandwich and cup of coffee."

Pedigo: "Arthur Howard is quite a machinist, isn't he?"

Ruth Miller: "Yes, when his dad came downstairs the other night, he made a bolt for the door."

TRUTH ABOUT WATER HEATERS

HOT water is one of the many necessities of modern life. The varied and wasteful methods of obtaining hot water in the home are too numerous to mention.

In your water heater, the gas should burn to full capacity until the water is hot, and then, instead of turning the gas down (or forgetting to turn it down), it should be shut off instantaneously and completely by means of an automatic mechanism, which should likewise turn on the gas when a quantity of hot water is used. The automatic mechanism on a water heater should act like an economic sentinel. Always on duty, shutting the gas on and off, giving you hot steaming water twenty-four hours in the day, and not one heat unit wasted.

When the water is hot, it should be kept hot in the same manner as fireless cookers and vacuum bottles keep things hot, which is only equivalent in a sense to keeping the body warm in cold weather with heavy woolen clothing. In conclusion, it is well to bear in mind that there is the same range of quality in water tank insulation as there is in thin cotton and heavy woolen clothing.

GOOD POINTS

Insulated like a Fireless Cooker.

Holds heat like a Vacuum Bottle.

Keeps water hot twenty-four (24) hours when burner is shut off.

Fully automatic—no attention required.

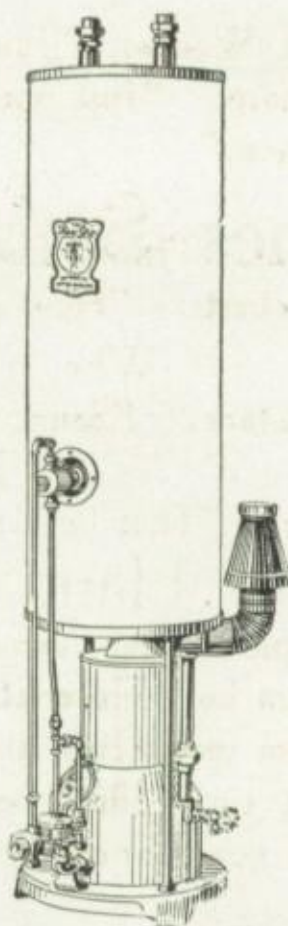

Twenty (20) gallons hot water always stored up ready for use any time of the day or night.

One hundred (100) per cent convenience—70% gas saved.

Yes, the Gas Bill is Lower.

24 Hours' Supply of Hot Water

For One Hour's Burning of Gas.

Insulated Like a Fireless
Cooker. Keeps Water Hot
24 Hours when all gas is shut off.

E. Cameron: "What did her father say when he overheard your remark about his funny feet?"

Keenan: "He poked fun at me."

Doug. T.: "You look dejected."

Clark W.: "Yes. Married life gets on my nerves."

Doug. T.: "Been married long?"

Clark W.: "No. The wedding takes place tomorrow."

Mr. Mardis: "Algeo, how do you make a compass?"

Algeo: "Rub a needle on a magnet from eye to point and then on your nose, drop it into a glass of water and it should point to the north."

A Boy With a Fortune--

A boy with a fortune is the boy who has one hundred dollars that he himself has saved. His fortune consists not alone of the money saved — and what boy with a hundred dollars would not feel like a millionaire? — but of a valuable lesson learned.

Not only has he experienced the thrill of possession, but he has caught the thrift habit. He has learned to do without useless things. He no longer squanders his money. He has better judgment of values. He is doubtless a far better boy.

Has your boy started to save yet? If he has not, there is no better time to teach him to begin than now — at this Bank.

ACHIEVEMENT

The goal of every ambitious man and firm is typified in the rapid growth of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company—the universal esteem in which their art and plates are held by the large national advertisers—and the enviable reputation for prompt deliveries which they enjoy.

Delivering this same high quality and careful personal supervision to schools has built up for us the largest college and high school annual engraving business in America—400 books yearly.

Thirty thousand square feet of floor space (4 floors) and over two hundred and fifty skilled employees are required to meet the constant demand for "J&O" commercial photographs, art, color process plates and photo engraving (one complete floor is devoted to color process work).

Intelligent supervision of all work by many skillful office service men eliminates your troubles. Sales service men sent everywhere.
